Greetings from Varnhold. Your messenger arrived last month with your letter. Brave of him to forge a path through the winter snows.

We are glad to hear of your desire to visit our humble home and will be pleased to host you during the warmer months. With the likely invitation to Pitax in the month of Sarenith, Lady Sybil suggests that perhaps you would like to visit Varnhold for the anniversary of our founding on the 13th of Gozran.

As your man commented that your lady wife is interested in the fair silks of the spiders found in our land, maybe a hunt for such things can be organized while you are here. Also, a visit with a scholar who is here to research the nature of some artifacts found south of our stronghold could be interesting.

With the reduction in support from Restov, I hope that we continue to find common ground between our new nations and continue in good cooperation. I look forward to the opportunity for another visit between realms.
